The weird science of loneliness explains why lockdown sucked

Social isolation is linked to poorer physical and mental health, but we don't know why. Now we're starting to understand what loneliness does to our brains

Cairde: Irish dance goes viral

The Irish dance group Cairde transform traditional Irish dance into modern choreographies with contemporary music. Through this, the seven young dancers have become an Internet phenomenon.

Time To Start Fresh: Follow These Steps To Deep Clean Your Space

much as any visitor. So, throw open a window, put on a playlist, and gather your supplies. This list should get you started: an all-purpose cleaner, a disinfectant, a window cleaner, microfiber cloths, a scrub brush, a duster, a mop and a vacuum or broom

UC Marin Master Gardeners Fire Smart Landscaping

DESIGN A FIRE-SMART LANDSCAPE

- Choose well-behaved, pollinator-friendly, summer-dry winter-wet plants appropriate for your microclimate such as native or Mediterranean plants and keep biodiversity in mind.
- Create plant islands that have similar sun, nutrient, and water needs.
- · Remember: The closer the house, the shorter the plant.
- Incorporate hardscape and noncombustible mulch such as stepping stones, rocks, and gravel around your house and throughout your garden to separate plant islands.
- Space plants for easy maintenance.
- Interrupt straight lines of plants, hedges, and trees to create fuel breaks.
- Don't plant a fuel ladder.
- Install an irrigation system to keep plants well hydrated without over-watering.
- Plan to apply compost and organic fertilizer to keep soil and plants healthy.
