Trunk Show at the Visitor Center 8.16

Trunk Show "Sweet Things in Life"

AUGUST 16 - 11 - 4
22 EL PORTAL

Featuring:

Artist Pat Doherty. Her work takes food as the subject matter for contemporary paintings. She is drawn to simple objects, notably desserts, and likes to establish good color relationships between light and shadow. Stop by to see her adorable fun Sweet Treats & Friends.

Angelino's wonderful "Sweet Treats". We all love Angelinos' Pastries and they are bringing them to the Visitor Center. Treat your family, friends, staff, or yourself to a goodie.

Noah and his Mom are artists represented by PPD, in Novato. Noah started painting as part of his therapy for autism. A percentage of their sales are donated to Autism Charities.

The story behind the song: \(Sittin' On\) The Dock Of The Bay by Otis Redding

Otis Redding was big news by the summer of 1967. Having spent most of his career performing in black clubs, his breakout appearance at the Monterey International Pop Music Festival that year introduced mainstream America to soul music's most electrifying new star. All that was missing was a major hit.

The planet is on track to exceed very dangerous warming levels, leaving us with fewer and fewer options.

At 10 am on select mornings, Academy experts (and friends) bring you discoveries, insights, and stories from around the world, spanning a wide range of subjects through live, informal presentations followed by Q&As with the viewing audience. Streamed simultaneously to our YouTube and Facebook pages, these mini-classes are for everyone (because each one of us is a brain). Sincerely yours, the Academy.

Dilbert creator Scott Adams once wrote of his early experiences introducing the World Wide Web to others. “In 1993, there were only a handful of Web sites you could access, such as the Smithsonian’s exhibit of gems. Those pages eyes like saucers, and they would approach the keyboard. They had to touch it themselves. There was something about the internet that was like catnip.” In the intervening decades, the technology powering the internet has only improved, and we’ve all felt how greatly that catnip-like effect has intensified. And the Smithsonian, as we’ve featured here on Open Culture, is still there — now with much more online than gems.
