Are food deliveries and groceries safe during coronavirus pandemic? Yes, experts say - CNN

The US Food and Drug Administration echoed that sentiment, is not aware of any reports suggesting Covid-19 can be transmitted by food or food packaging. "I want to be clear that food or the packages could carry the virus, but the risk of transmission is very, very low. This is a remote possibility and thousands if not millions of times less likely than any of the other exposure routes. Really, really low risk." Benjamin Chapman, a professor and food safety specialist at North Carolina State University.

Shopping Tips

- Avoid using baskets or carts by bringing along your own vinyl shopping bags with handles. If possible, line with a doubled paper bag to create a solid bottom.
- Load heavy stuff first, eggs on top.
- If available use self-checkout.
- Use your car keys or a pen at any keypad device.

Good Earth (9 am), and Whole Foods (8 am) limit the first hour of shopping to seniors as well as those who are immune-suppressed and pregnant women. Target has a senior shopping hour at 9 am on Wednesdays.
