Emergency Preparedness

Listos California, a statewide emergency preparedness campaign anchored in the Governor's Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES), today announced the launch of a partnership with PBS stations across California to launch an on-air and online campaign focused on preparing Californians for emergencies. This first-of-its-kind media partnership, called "Building Resiliency with Emergency Preparedness," is designed to reach vulnerable populations and encourage them to take free and easy steps to prepare for wildfire and other disasters as they stay home and practice physical distancing in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The partnership – launching today during Wildfire Preparedness Week as declared by Governor Gavin Newsom – will consist of public service announcements appearing throughout the entire state across seven markets, including regional PBS stations PBS SoCal and KCET (Los Angeles), KPBS (San Diego), KVCR (San Bernardino), KQED (San Francisco Bay Area), Valley PBS (Fresno), KVIE (Sacramento) and KIXE (Redding).

Paid-media spots start airing Monday May 11 and will continue for 10 weeks with nearly 1,500 unique television and digital spots across all PBS stations and digital platforms in California.

the year that will provide simple, free and easy steps to prepare all Californians, especially vulnerable populations, and will help advance public media's commitment to public safety and to keeping the public well-informed. The programs will be made available for broadcast on all of the PBS stations in California and will feature the five steps to prepare for disaster from Listos California's Disaster Ready Guide which are to:

1. Get official alerts to know what to do.
2. Make a plan to protect your people by creating an emergency contact list and an evacuation plan.
3. Pack a go-bag with things you need.
4. Build a stay box to stay safe at home for when you can't leave.
5. Help friends and neighbors get ready.
