Weekly Writing Prompt:

Imagine you are able to speak to someone in your community, family, or lineage, even after you have passed on from this earthly plane. It is a person who was born after you were gone, so you do not know them personally. But they are able to find the message you have left behind. What would you say to them? What things do you want them to know about you, about this moment we are in, and perhaps about life and time as a whole?

Archaeologists Have Discovered the Largest, Oldest Mayan Monument to Date, and It Appears to Have Been Built by the People, for the People

Researchers based at the University of Arizona have found what they believe to be the largest and oldest Mayan monument ever discovered—and it was hidden in plain sight all along.

Using state-of-the-art Light Detection and Ranging \(LiDAR\) tools, a group of archaeologists led by Takeshi Inomata located a 3,000-year-old ceremonial complex constructed of multiple structures, including a pyramid-topped form, at the site of Aguada Fénix in Mexico, near the northwest border of Guatemala.
