BEGINNING MONDAY, JULY 13TH

Born in a one-room shack in the woods of Barnwell, South Carolina, James Joe Brown, Jr. (1933-2006) "escaped the harsh reality of growing up black in the rural South during the Great Depression and turned to religion, to music, and to singing in the church choir." Incarcerated at 16 for stealing a car, Brown created and led a prison gospel choir and met Bobby Byrd - an aspiring R&B singer & pianist - forming "a friendship and musical partnership that proved one of the most fruitful in music history." In 1955, Byrd invited Brown to join his R&B vocal group. In 1956, a demo tape played for a talent scout helped land them on the R&B charts. But, when the group fizzled out, Brown moved to Performance.

An arrow can only be shot by pulling it backward. So when life is dragging you back with difficulties, it means that it's going to launch you into something great.
