Friday: 'COPING WITH PANDEMIC STRESS' SUPPORT GROUP - SV MEMBERS AND VOLUNTEERS ONLY. 2-3
[Creative Time Comics]

Creative Time Comics

Creative Time commissioned a new artist each week to create a "timely and original comic as a rapid response to the global COVID-19 pandemic. The initiative highlights the comic as a means for communicating complex ideas about society, honoring the medium's long history of expressing the zeitgeist in times of war, distress, and upheaval. It also affirms the vital importance of artists' voices in shaping contemporary discourse, while exploring the digital realm as an expansive and dynamic public space. Creative Time Comics

These 20+ Cats Don't Care About Your Personal Space

These cats don't care about your personal space. While some owners resort to shaming, in their heart of hearts, they know it's ineffective and will probably just result in an act of revenge. Cats don't have any concept of personal space and they will be sure to remind you of this with every chance they get.Let this list serve as a warning to those of you who are considering a feline companion:

After Dark Online: From Data to Action
Thursday, August 20, 2020 • 7:00 p.m. PDT

Adults Only (18+)

Free online event: Join via YouTube or Facebook

Collecting and visualizing data allows us to see critical issues: a surge in COVID cases, toxins in garden soil, where the climate is warming fastest. Tonight, we hear (and see!) three stories of how data visualization is being used to detect, inform, and spur action on COVID-19, environmental justice, and climate change.

This program features:

Hidden Complexities of Visualizing COVID-19 with Amanda Makulec
Amanda Makulek advocates for and explores ways of visualizing health data responsibly. She worked with data in global health programs for eight years before joining Excella as data visualization lead.

Visualizing and Personalizing Climate Change with Nadja Popovich
Nadja Popovich uses data and graphics to explain the science of climate change and its real-life impacts. She joined the New York Times climate desk in 2017.

The 24 American UNESCO World Heritage Sites Ranked

If you've been to one of the 61 national parks in the United States or have taken a school field trip to an American landmark like the Statue of Liberty, you've probably visited a UNESCO World Heritage Site and didn't even know it. These protected landmarks are recognized for their cultural and natural significance, and make up the fabric of nations and cultures.
