*Calling the World* is a dial-a-poem project, presented by the Poetry Society of America and Saint Flashlight, two organizations committed to placing poetry in public spaces and creating poetic encounters and interventions.

The project consists of an audio anthology of poems from around the world. Please call (212) 202-5606 to listen to poems. On your phone, click here to call directly.

The poems range from the ancient to the contemporary, including work by Ono no Komachi, Mahmoud Darwish, Ye Lijun, Kwame Dawes, Pablo Neruda, Wisława Szymborska, Mónica de la Torre, Romeo Oriogun, and Anne Carson. Readers include Billy Collins, Jane Hirshfield, Fady Joudah, and Purvi Shah, among others.

Calling the World was created in response to the isolation brought about by the current COVID-19 pandemic. Calling the World showcases an international group of voices—African, Asian, Caribbean, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern—and

Inventions by Women

This popular board game was designed by Elizabeth Magie in 1904, originally called the Landlord's Game.

The purpose of this game was to expose the injustices of unchecked capitalism.

Her game was ripped off by Charles Darrow who sold it to Parker Brother's 30 years later.
