Opening UP

October 10, 2020 – January 3, 2021

The de Young Open

In celebration of the de Young museum's 125th anniversary, the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco are hosting The de Young Open, a juried community art exhibition of submissions by artists who live in the nine Bay Area counties: Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano, and Sonoma.

Welcome Back!

Claude got a scrubdown. The penguins are in black tie. And T. rex is all smiles. Why? It can only mean one thing: We're ready to reopen!

After a 214-day temporary closure (not that we've been counting, of course), the Academy will reopen to members and donors on October 13 and the general public on October 23. Explore this page for important health and safety information, how to reserve tickets, and a preview of the exciting new exhibits that await the return of our favorite species—you

25 Downright Delightful Videos That Will Restore Your Joy in Cooking

If 2020 was a movie, you'd never believe the plot twists. There's just too much going on! You'd fire the screenwriter and tell the new guy to reel it in because the whole thing is exhausting to watch. In between doomscrolling on Twitter, following the looming election, and seeing the mounting number of COVID-19 cases in the United States, it's hard to concentrate on anything else — let alone what to make for dinner. If we talked about feeling burned out in the kitchen back in May, where are we now?
